Philosophy

Homelessness is a complex, socio-economic issue that touches communities across the nation. The plethora of resources available is only as good as the deployment of a systematic process. The system of care must respond quickly by creating easily accessible services. Together small successes must be celebrated to encourage continued participation with the ultimate goal of stabilized housing, steady income, and improved quality of life.

Vision

To permanently reduce the number of homeless in our community, by understanding the core challenge of each individual, and how their experience defines their individual barriers.
