Ruff, ruff, chirp, chirp, meow. People say pets are babies to us but we all know pets need food, water and shelter but they also need love and care.

One thing pets need is love. If pets don't have love, they will be sad, head hanging low tears in eyes, smile turned upside down and desperate. If pets don't have love, they will want to go back to the pet store. Also, why would you get a pet if you won't love it?

Another thing pets need is care. If you have a pet, you have a lot of responsibilities. You need to take your pet for an annual check up at the vet. You have to feed, wash, play with and clean up messes. One of the big jobs you have is to make you pets as happy as unicorns and rainbows.

Clearly pets need food, water, and shelter but they also need love and care. My advice for pet owners is to take care of your pet.
