Taking Care of the Animals to save the world

If I could make one rule for the world to follow about animals and everyone had to follow it my rule would be about taking care of all the animals. All the people need to take care of the animals. We can take care of the animals by cleaning the ocean and cleaning their home so they can live in the human world. One of the most important things we need to take care of is the animal habitat. We are destroying their habitat by cutting down their house. Everything is our fault because we have taken their house, we have taken their property.

There are cool animals that live in the wilderness world that are in danger from humans because we kill them big! But everything is our fault because we are destroying our world. That trash we throw into the water goes to the ocean, but we never think that little trash that we throw anywhere goes to the ocean, and we don't think that the animals that live in the ocean are in big danger. We don't take action to help our own world. People are just throwing trash into our one earth. But we don't think that the animals that live in our world are in grave danger, we just care about ourselves, not for the animals we need to take action now.

We need to save the world and the animals too. We don't need to take care of ourselves, we should take care of the animals! We need them to share this world with, we see all that trash that is in the world, do you feel bad for our world yes or no? We always need to take care of our world even for the animals every year they collect tons of trash. All that trash comes from us. We throw that trash anywhere and it goes to the ocean. All that trash is bad for our health and is bad for the animals that live in the ocean. So we need to take action to save our world. We need to save our world so we could have a better life because we don't want to live in a place where there is no nature. That's why we need to save the animals and take care of them. They collect about 11.200 billion things and all of that is only trash.
