Appendix to Section 23.45 – Guidance Concerning Good Faith Efforts

To determine whether a competitor that has failed to meet MBE contract goals may receive the contract, the recipient must decide whether the efforts the competitor made to obtain MBE participation were “good faith efforts” to meet the goals. Efforts that are merely pro forma are not good faith efforts to meet the goals. Efforts to obtain MBE participation are not good faith efforts to meet the goals, even if they are sincerely motivated. If, given all relevant circumstances, they could not reasonably be expected to produce a level of MBE participation sufficient to meet the goals. In order to award a contract to a competitor that has failed to meet MBE contract goals, the recipient must determine that the competitor’s efforts were those that, given all relevant circumstances, a competitor actively and aggressively seeking to meet the goals would make.

To assist recipients in making the required judgment, the Department has prepared a list of the kinds of efforts that contractors may make in obtaining MBE participation. It is not intended to be a mandatory checklist; the Department does not require recipients to insist that a contractor do any one, or any particular combination, of the things on the list. Nor is the list intended to be exclusive or exhaustive. Other factors or types of efforts may be relevant in appropriate cases. In determining whether a contractor has made good faith efforts, it will usually be important for a recipient to look not only at the different kinds of efforts that the contractor has made, but also the quality and intensity of these efforts.

The Department offers the following list of kinds of efforts that recipients may consider:

1. Whether the contractor appended in pre-solicitation or pre-bid meetings that were scheduled by the recipient to inform MBEs of contracting and subcontracting opportunities.
2. Whether the contractor advertised in general circulation, trade association, and minority-focus media concerning the subcontracting opportunities.
3. Whether the contractor provided written notice to a reasonable number of specific MBEs that their interest in the contract was being solicited, in sufficient time to allow the MBEs to participate effectively.
4. Whether the contractor followed up initial solicitations of interest by contacting MBEs to determine whether the MBEs were interested.
5. Whether the contractor selected portions of the work to be performed by MBEs in order to increase the likelihood of meeting the MBE goals (including where appropriate, breaking down contracts into economically feasible units to facilitate MBE participation).
6. Whether the contractor provided interested MBEs with adequate information about the plans, specifications and requirements of the contract.
7. Whether the contractor negotiated in good faith with interested MBEs, not rejecting MBEs as unqualified without sound reason based on a thorough investigation of their capabilities;
8. Whether the contractor made efforts to assist interested MBEs in obtaining bonding, lines of credit, or insurance required by the recipients or contractors; and
9. Whether the contractor effectively used the services of available minority community organizations, minority contractors’ groups, local, state and Federal minority business assistance offices, and other organizations that provide assistance in the recruitment and placement of MBEs.
General Responsibilities for M/WBE Coordinator
