Max Maul Sugar Beet Harvest. The ground appears to be dried mud, with a few sugar beets on the ground. city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections
Max Maul and children during potato harvest.
city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections
Hoffman Heights Shopping Center, Aurora, Colorado, 1967.

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections
Colfax Avenue and Dallas Street, Aurora, Colorado, 1921. Colfax is paved, with Model T cars parked along the sides of the streets. Visible businesses include a butcher shop on the far left, next to a drug store that sells chocolate and soda. Further down that same side of the street is a Ford sign.
Shopping center on Colfax Avenue.

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections
Colfax Avenue, 1970’s

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections, P1997.014.021
Colfax Avenue, 1970’s

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections, P1993.7781
Hoery Farm Plow

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections, P1990.8332
Hoery Farm Dairy Cows

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections, P1990.857
Hoery Farm Turkeys

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections, P1990.831
Hoery Farm, Dairy Delivery Truck.

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections, P1990 823.2 Colfax Avenue line in Aurora, Colfax Ave. Electric Railway

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Photographic Collections
“The Tramway Bulletin” February 1917

city of Aurora - Aurora History Museum Collections