Christmas in July

Now is the time to start making your holiday gifts. Thinking you have plenty of time can result in disappointment when bad weather and other factors slow down the loading and the firing of the gas kiln. The amount of pieces in the glaze cupboard is also a factor as we need a full load to fire the gas kiln. Make sure you make your pieces well in advance to give you time in case of unforeseen problems. Another idea is to make more than you need to ensure success.

July 4th Closure

Bicentennial Art Center will be closed for the 4th of July. There will be no classes or open hours on the 20th and the center is already closed on the 19th.

Open Registration

If you haven’t already marked your calendar for next session’s open registration, please do so now! Open registration for Fall is on July 5th starting at 9:00 am. We strongly recommend signing up on line at 9:00 am sharp to improve your chances at getting the class that fits your schedule and needs. Open Studio Unlimited and Class may only be registered for in person or over the phone if you have taken a class previously within a 12-month period.

Alex Tyler is our new studio volunteer

Many of you may know Alex because he has spent a lot of his free time here at Bicentennial taking classes and making amazing work. He will now be in the studio helping out around the studio as needed, so you might see him here even more often than before. The Bicentennial Art Center is lucky to have him here in this new capacity.

Open hours

Open hours here at Bicentennial Arts Center are only available to our current students. There are several class options for open hours as well as by the hour rates. Ask our front staff about which one best fits your needs.
