Update the city council and our city’s COVID-19 efforts

Earlier tonight I gave the City Council and the residents of Renton an update on the City’s response to COVID-19. I continued to provide core city services. For those of you who have subscribed to this newsletter, please be assured you will have received it through our learning module.

The City’s economic development team, led by Cliff Long, has taken several steps to provide assistance, helping to provide access to resources contained in the Federal CARES Act.

Start Up 452, our consortium of economic development partners, including Renton, Kent, Federal Way, Kirkland and Issaquah, has agreed to share the cost of these resources and support our local businesses. We have created a learning module to provide technical resources and support to Renton businesses.

We have opened a dedicated hotline for you to call as the point of contact for businesses with COVID-19 related questions. The hotline will be open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to serve those interested in learning more about securing loan guarantees, which also includes a dedicated phone number and email address.

I specifically assigned three staff members to make direct contact with local businesses to assist with their needs, and we will be doing a regular series of webinars to help them access benefits provided by the Small Business Association.

During this ongoing pandemic, one of the American Indian members of our Mayor’s Inclusion Task Force, Duc Tran, has provided free lunches to hospital staff and is planning to do the same for other first responders in the Renton area. Duc is a member of the Mayor’s Inclusion Task Force (M.I.T.F), which was established last year to support the open and varying needs of the community. He is a doing much needed meals during this COVID-19 time of crisis. Duc says, “It feels great to know that we have you and your families in our thoughts, and to do what we can to maintain a positive outlook. It is our hope that all of you have done and will continue to do for our community.

The proclamation also emphasizes our community’s belief in the dignity, equality, safety and constitutional and civil rights of all people. It also reaffirms our intolerance of hate, discrimination, harassment, or behavior that creates fear, isolation, or intimidation.

I hope you’ll join me in supporting our Asian American neighbors as opportunities arise and affirming the value they have brought to our city.

Renton Responds COVID-19

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused service cuts to our bus routes serving Renton. Tomorrow, my staff will notify the public of a new schedule that includes a reduced number of bus services. This in addition to keeping our Viet truck up and running. This will be to help local businesses. This in addition to keeping our Viet truck up and running. This in addition to keeping our Viet truck up and running. This in addition to keeping our Viet truck up and running.

The city’s economic development team, led by Cliff Long, has taken several steps to provide assistance, helping to provide access to resources contained in the Federal CARES Act.

I strongly encourage our riders to take this opportunity to use the Metropolitan Transit System, which now offers free wi-fi. The governor’s order also allows school districts to fully concentrate on learning through the end of the 2019-20 school year. Washington is now the fourteen state to move to a full-time distance learning model. The governor said the transition will be a big task for us to work through the challenges of COVID-19.

Gov. Inslee today extended his ban on on site learning through the end of the year. Online learning will be done and will continue to do for our community.

The COVID-19 hospitalization rate in the city continues to decrease. Renton’s hospitalization rate is currently just 4%. This continues to decrease. Renton’s hospitalization rate is currently just 4%.

I know the community is reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other and many of our small businesses are doing a wonderful job of reaching out to help each other.
