The effect of "Stay Home, Stay Healthy"
Gov. Inslee’s "Stay Home, Stay Healthy" executive order was exactly the right stop at this point in our fight to stop the spread of COVID-19. This mis-order has now saved lives by closing schools, businesses, and non-essential services. This order has saved the lives of the residents of this state and the nation.

The order requires all residents to go out for exercise or work around the house. The order states that one cannot leave the house. The order created a significant change in the way people live their lives. The order created a significant change in the way people work.

All of the city's parks with gates will remain open. Recreational facilities inside city parks - playgrounds, sport fields, and other active recreation areas are open. The city has closed all parks to the public. The city has closed all parks to the public.

I am appealing to your sense of community and not to walk together as we move into a new phase of containing the spread of COVID-19. There's always a fear that if we walk too fast and interact in such a way we will make it through.

Update on city functions. New information is in ed.
City Hall
• City Hall is closed to the public until further notice. Most services available via phone or email.
• In-person services are not available.
• Individuals are allowed to attend board meetings at the City Hall.
• The city is working to ensure the health and safety of all residents.
• The city has updated its website with information on COVID-19.
• The city has issued guidelines for businesses on how to reopen safely.

City Council
• Council meetings will be held via teleconference.
• City Hall will be open for the meeting, however, residents are encouraged to participate by submitting questions in advance of the meeting.
• The meeting is open to the public. Comments Montrose, May 25, at 5:00 PM, at the public walkway, (905-945-5064, ext. 300). City Council meetings will be held via teleconference.
• Sub-committee meetings are cancelled.
• Meetings are open to the public.

Donations/Social Service/Healthcare
• Puget Sound Blood Bank shut down spin-up.
• Food bank services are available at City Hall.
• Food bank services are available at City Hall.
• Food bank services are available at City Hall.
• Food bank services are available at City Hall.

Economy
• The city has canceled its quarterly business report.
• The city has canceled its quarterly business report.
• The city has canceled its quarterly business report.
• The city has canceled its quarterly business report.

Facilities Services
• The following facilities are closed at least through April 24: Renton City Hall, Renton Community Center, Wilsonville Center, North Highlands Community Center, Renton Riverside Museum, Renton Library, and the Renton Senior Center.
• The City Hall is closed to the public.
• Lunch programs continue at the Renton Senior Center.

Government
• City Hall is closed to the public.
• The city has suspended all non-essential services.
• The city has suspended all non-essential services.
• The city has suspended all non-essential services.

Online services
• Business licenses, permits, licenses, courts, tax and licensingcitizens can all be processed online.
• Business Licensing & Tax: 425-438-5085.

The COVID-19 update by the City Council has already been released.

The city is working to ensure the health and safety of all residents.

The city has updated its website with information on COVID-19.

The city has issued guidelines for businesses on how to reopen safely.

The city has canceled its quarterly business report.

The following facilities are closed at least through April 24: Renton City Hall, Renton Community Center, Wilsonville Center, North Highlands Community Center, Renton Riverside Museum, Renton Library, and the Renton Senior Center.

The City Hall is closed to the public.

Lunch programs continue at the Renton Senior Center.

The city has suspended all non-essential services.

Business licenses, permits, licenses, courts, tax and licensing citizens can all be processed online.

Business Licensing & Tax: 425-438-5085.